The publication of information concerning action taken in respect of international labour Conventions and Recommendations does not imply any expression of view by the International Labour Office on the legal status of the State having communicated such information (including the communication of a ratification or declaration), or on its authority over the areas or territories in respect of which such information is communicated; in certain cases this may present problems on which the ILO is not competent to express an opinion.

ILO publications can be obtained through major booksellers or ILO local offices in many countries, or direct from ILO Publications, International Labour Office, CH-1211 Geneva 22, Switzerland. A catalogue or list of new publications will be sent free of charge from the above address.

Recent developments

Membership of the Organization

1. Vanuatu became a Member of the ILO on 22 May 2003 and the Democratic Republic of Timor-Leste on 18 August 2003, bringing the total number of member States of the Organization to 177.

New standards adopted by the Conference at its 91st Session and entry into force of one Convention and one Protocol

2. At its 91st Session (June 2003), the International Labour Conference (ILC) adopted the Seafarers' Identity Documents Convention (Revised), 2003 (No. 185).
3. The Protocol to the Merchant Shipping (Minimum Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 147) came into force on 10 January 2003, and the Safety and Health in Agriculture Convention, 2001 (No. 184) came into force on 20 September 2003.

Items on the agenda of the 92nd and 93rd Sessions of the Conference

4. At its 92nd Session (June 2004), the Conference will consider, in addition to standing items, such as information and reports on the application of international labour standards, the following items:
 - revision of the Human Resources Development Recommendation, 1975 (No. 150) (second discussion);
 - comprehensive standards (a Convention supplemented by a Recommendation) on work in the fishing sector (first discussion);
 - migrant workers (general discussion based on an integrated approach);
 - the withdrawal of Recommendations Nos. 2, 12, 16, 18, 21, 26, 32, 33, 34, 36, 43, 46, 58, 70, 74 and 96.
5. The agenda of the 93rd Session (June 2005) will most likely include:
 - comprehensive standards (a Convention supplemented by a Recommendation) on work in the fishing sector (second discussion);

- the elaboration of a new instrument establishing a promotional framework in the area of occupational safety and health (first discussion);
 - promotion of youth employment (a general discussion based on an integrated approach).
6. Furthermore, in view of elaborating a consolidated Convention on maritime work, a technical maritime preparatory Conference will be held from 13 to 24 September 2004 which will be followed by a Maritime Session of the International Labour Conference in 2005.

Standards policy

7. As regards the constitutional amendment aimed at permitting the abrogation of obsolete Conventions, 76 member States had ratified or accepted it as at 31 December 2003. The amendment will enter into force when it is ratified or accepted by two-thirds of the Members of the Organization (118 out of 177) including five of the ten Members of chief industrial importance. This second condition has already been fulfilled.
8. Article 45bis of the Standing Orders of the Conference, adopted in June 1997, enables the Conference to withdraw obsolete international labour Conventions which have not entered into force, as well as obsolete Recommendations. The withdrawal of 16 obsolete Recommendations will be proposed to the Conference at its 92nd Session (June 2004) (see paragraph 4 above).
9. As regards the regular reporting mechanisms, the adjustments decided by the Governing Body in November 2001 and March 2002 – that is, the reduction in the number of detailed reports requested and the grouping of Conventions for reporting purposes – was implemented for the first time for the meeting of the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations in November-December 2003.
10. Furthermore, at its November 2003 session, the Governing Body held a second discussion on technical assistance and the promotion of international labour standards. The Governing Body considered that the comments of the supervisory bodies, the conclusions of the Working Party on Policy regarding the Revision of Standards, as well as the differences in national situations should be taken into account in the development of the tools necessary to support technical assistance and promotional activities, especially the integration of standards into the country programmes. The Governing Body also discussed the code of good drafting practices and requested the Office to prepare a final draft with a view to submitting it to its 292nd Session (March 2005). With regard to the questionnaires provided for in articles 38 and 39 of the Standing Orders of the Conference (addressed to member States in view of the elaboration of new standards), the Governing Body invited the Office to pursue relevant consultations. Finally, it examined a first document on procedures envisaged in articles 19, 24 and 26 of the ILO Constitution, which will be followed by a document setting forth more concrete proposals.
11. The Working Party on Policy regarding the Revision of Standards, which began its work in November 1995, completed its task in March 2002. As a follow-up to this work, a guide on international labour standards was published, and country profiles inviting member States to ratify up-to-date Conventions and revised Conventions have become available on the Internet.

Constitutional and other procedures

Measures taken under article 33 of the ILO Constitution: The question of the observance by the Government of Myanmar of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29)

17. At the 83rd Session of the International Labour Conference (ILC) in June 1996, a complaint was submitted by 25 Workers' delegates under article 26 of the Constitution concerning the observance by Myanmar of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29).
18. The Governing Body decided to establish a Commission of Inquiry to examine the complaint. This Commission completed its report in July 1998 in which it concluded that "the obligation under Article 1, paragraph 1, of the Convention to suppress the use of forced or compulsory labour is violated in Myanmar in national law ... as well as in actual practice in a widespread and systematic manner, with total disregard for the human dignity, safety and health and basic needs of the people of Myanmar". The Governing Body took note of the report and requested the Director-General to keep it informed of progress in regard to the situation.
19. In March 1999, the Governing Body decided that the question of the application of Convention No. 29 by Myanmar would be included on the agenda of each session of the ILC.
20. In June 1999, the ILC adopted a resolution under the terms of which the Government of Myanmar should cease to benefit from any technical cooperation or assistance from the ILO, except for the purpose of direct assistance to implement immediately the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry. Following another ILC resolution in June 2000, the constituents of the ILO were invited to, under article 33 of the ILO Constitution and on the recommendation of the Governing Body, in particular to review, in the light of the conclusions of the Commission of Inquiry, the relations that they may have with Myanmar and take appropriate measures to ensure that Myanmar cannot take advantage of such relations to perpetuate or extend the system of forced or compulsory labour referred to by the Commission of Inquiry.
21. A number of technical cooperation missions were undertaken (between May 2000 and February 2002). Moreover, in the framework of the "Understanding on an ILO Objective Assessment" concluded on 19 May 2001 by representatives of the Director-General and representatives of the Government of Myanmar, the latter agreed to receive a High-Level Team (September-October 2001) which submitted its report to the Governing Body in November 2001. The Government subsequently accepted the appointment of an ILO Liaison Officer to Myanmar charged with conducting all activities relevant to the prompt and effective elimination of forced labour.
22. Beginning in October 2002, the Liaison Officer took up her functions and submitted to each session of the Governing Body reports on her activities, including her travels in the country and her contacts with authorities. Her mission ended in November 2003 and an interim Liaison Officer was appointed on 1 December 2003.
23. In May 2003, the Government and the ILO arrived at an agreement on a Joint Plan of Action on the elimination of forced labour practices in Myanmar.

24. In November 2003, the Governing Body decided to postpone to its session in March 2004 the examination of the proposal to reactivate the measures envisaged in terms of the resolution adopted by the Conference in June 2000.

Representations submitted under article 24 of the Constitution

25. Representations may be filed under article 24 of the Constitution by industrial associations of employers or workers alleging that a member State that has ratified a Convention has failed to secure within its jurisdiction the effective observance of that Convention. Once declared receivable, representations are examined by a tripartite committee established by the Governing Body. Their findings are followed up by the Committee of Experts. The table below indicates developments concerning representations in 2003.

Country	Convention	Complainant organization	Follow-up

Complaints submitted under article 26 of the ILO Constitution

26. Complaints may be filed under article 26 of the Constitution alleging that a member State that has ratified a Convention is not securing its effective observance. Complaints may be filed by another member State that has ratified the same Convention. The Governing Body may initiate the procedure either of its own motion or upon receipt of a complaint from a delegate to the International Labour Conference. The Governing Body may appoint a Commission of Inquiry to consider the complaint. Findings of the Commission of Inquiry are followed up, inter alia, by the Committee of Experts.

² Previously declared receivable, this representation was considered by the Governing Body not to have been receivable because of the character of the complainant organization.

Complaint against Colombia

27. In 2003, two reports on the Special Technical Cooperation Programme for Colombia were submitted to the Governing Body. At its March and June 2003 sessions, the Committee on Freedom of Association submitted to the Governing Body reports which included the examination of Colombian cases (see the 330th and 331st Reports of the Committee on Freedom of Association). At its session in June 2003, the Governing Body rejected a proposal by the Workers' group calling for the establishment of a Commission of Inquiry charged with examining this complaint.

Complaint against Belarus

28. Several Workers' delegates at the 91st session of the International Labour Conference (2003) presented a complaint under article 26 of the ILO Constitution against the Government of Belarus concerning the non-observance by Belarus of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), and the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98). At its session of November 2003, the Governing Body decided to establish a Commission of Inquiry on this matter.

Special procedures concerning freedom of association

29. At each of its last meetings (March, June and November 2003), the Committee on Freedom of Association had before it nearly 300 cases concerning around 50 countries from all parts of the world, for which it presented interim or final conclusions, or for which the examination was adjourned pending the arrival of information from governments (330th, 331st and 332nd Reports). Many of these cases have been submitted to the Committee on several occasions. Moreover, in 2003, over 50 new cases have been submitted to the Committee on Freedom of Association. Missions concerning certain cases pending before the Committee on Freedom of Association visited Belarus and Paraguay.

30. The Committee on Freedom of Association drew the attention of the Committee of Experts to the legislative aspects of the following cases: No. 2127 (Bahamas), No. 2225 (Bosnia and Herzegovina), Nos. 2166, 2173, 2180 and 2196 (Canada), No. 2233 (France), No. 2100 (Honduras), No. 2118 (Hungary), No. 2132 (Madagascar), Nos. 2229 and 2242 (Pakistan), Nos. 2199 and 2216 (Russian Federation) and No. 2255 (Sri Lanka).

Technical assistance in the field of standards

Direct contacts

31. Upon the recommendation of the International Labour Conference, a direct contacts mission took place in October 2003 to the United Arab Emirates with regard to the application of the Forced Labour Convention 1930, (No. 29).

Advisory missions

32. Advisory missions in the field of freedom of association visited Belarus (September 2003), Canada (February 2003), Islamic Republic of Iran (May 2003), Paraguay (September 2003) and Serbia and Montenegro (May 2003).

Promotional activities

33. Seminars on freedom of association were organized in Argentina (May 2003), Brazil (September 2003), Burkina Faso (October 2003), Senegal (July 2003), United Republic of Tanzania (June 2003), Togo (October 2003) and Uruguay (December 2002 and May 2003).

34. Concerning equality and non-discrimination, the following activities were undertaken: technical assistance to Mauritius on job classification for equal remuneration; a technical advisory mission to Japan on the ratification of Convention No. 111 (December 2002); an Asian regional meeting on the training of judges on international standards concerning equality (Philippines, September 2003); missions to Bulgaria, Fiji, Indonesia and Papua New Guinea concerning the application of Conventions Nos. 100 and 111; missions to Switzerland and Suriname on indigenous people's rights; and a regional tripartite meeting on labour migration in Asia (Bangladesh).

35. Assistance was provided in various subject areas through national tripartite seminars, advisory and technical assistance missions, activities undertaken in collaboration with the ILO's Turin Centre, congresses and symposia. These activities included: a tripartite seminar on the promotion of social dialogue on wage policy (Romania, January 2003); a tripartite seminar on maritime standards (Bulgaria, February 2003); an assistance mission on forced labour (Russian Federation, February 2003) and on seafarers' identity documents (Republic of Moldova, February 2003); training, promotion and assistance missions in the field of social security, including Convention No. 102 and the European Code of Social Security (Budapest, March 2003, Republic of Moldova, Peru and Mexico, May 2003); presentations on maritime law (Malta, February 2003 and Germany, March 2003) and on standards in general (Belgium, March-April 2003).

36. The International Labour Standards Department furthermore has continued to develop its legal information system, consisting of ILOLEX, APPLIS and LibSynd, databases on international labour standards, and NATLEX, a database on national labour and social legislation. During the course of 2003, the NATLEX database was transferred to a modernized database platform. This move has allowed for easier updating and management of the database and faster uploading of full text versions of laws. It is hoped that this modernized system will allow the Department to keep track more efficiently of new legislative developments in the field of labour, social security, and related human rights and to share this knowledge with the social partners and the wider public. Furthermore, country profiles were added to ILOLEX containing information on the ratification of Conventions with regard to decisions taken by the Governing Body in follow-up to the work completed by the Working Party on Policy regarding the Revision of Standards. Finally, the Department also released the 2003 version of the International Labour Standards Electronic Library (ILSE). This popular CD-ROM now includes Conventions and Recommendations in Arabic, Chinese, Russian and German, with appropriate interfaces.

37. Furthermore, in order to make information on standards-related activities more accessible, the Department has continued to develop the APPLIS database. This database provides direct access to continuously-updated information on ratifications, reports requested and received under article 22 of the Constitution by country or Convention, comments of the Committee of Experts, including an archive of comments since 1990, as well as information on the submission to competent authorities of instruments adopted by the International Labour Conference, as provided under article 19 of the Constitution. The database also contains references to observations received by workers' and employers' organizations. APPLIS now also contains a feature which presents the regular reporting schedule for the next five years, with the aim of simplifying the planning of reporting obligations by the national governments. This information follows up on improvements made to the regular reporting system by the Governing Body at its 282nd and 283rd Sessions.

38. The Freedom of Association Branch finalized its work on a branch database (LibSynd). This database aims at bringing together all information from the diverse ILO supervisory mechanisms relevant to freedom of association. Moreover, the database has been completed with full access to all the cases of the Committee on Freedom of Association since its inception in 1951. The database is regularly updated upon the adoption and approval of the reports of the Committee on Freedom of Association. It can be accessed either by country or by year and has an advanced search mechanism to assist in the retrieval of cases relevant to particular topics or organizations. The reports of all of the Commissions of Inquiry and Fact-finding and Conciliation Commissions on freedom of association are also available. With a view towards having parallel information available from other supervisory bodies or ILO instances, the database also provides direct access, country by country, to comments made by the Committee of Experts since 1990 in respect of the application of Conventions Nos. 87 and 98 and the records of the relevant discussions taking place in the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards.

Standards-related activities in regional and subregional offices

39. Specialists in international labour standards are serving with the regional and subregional offices located in the following cities: Bangkok, Beirut, Dakar, Harare, Lima, Manila, New Delhi, Port-of-Spain, San José, Santiago (Chile) and Yaoundé. An international labour standards specialist has recently been appointed in the Subregional Office in Addis Ababa, and an international labour standards and social dialogue specialist should shortly be named in the Subregional Office in Moscow. Moreover, a standards specialist post has also been created in the Subregional Office in Cairo. The Subregional Office in Budapest does not currently have a specialist in international labour standards; the necessary technical assistance is therefore currently provided by the staff of the International Labour Standards Department.

Seafarers' Identity Documents Convention (Revised), 2003 (No. 185)

Adopted at the 91st Session of the ILC

Convention not in force

PART III

Country profiles

The following country profiles provide information on the ratification and application of Conventions and on the submission of instruments adopted by the Conference to the competent authorities in a table format by country.

The ratifications section indicates which fundamental Conventions, priority Conventions, and other Conventions a country has ratified as of 31 December 2003. It does not list Conventions which have been denounced or which are not in force.

The section on reports requested indicates how many reports were requested from the country in 2003 and how many were received. Under articles 22 and 35 of the ILO Constitution, member States are required to submit reports at regular intervals on the application of Conventions which they have ratified or declared applicable to their territories. If a report requested was a first detailed report (which is required following the ratification of a Convention), the number of the Convention appears in parentheses.

The section on observations made by employers' and workers' organizations indicates for which Conventions comments were received by such organizations on reports submitted to them by governments. Article 23 of the Constitution requires each member State to communicate to the representative employers' and workers' organizations copies of the information and reports communicated under articles 19 and 22.

The section concerning comments of the Committee of Experts indicates what comments the Committee made during its session in 2003. It lists either "observations", which are published in the report of the Committee of Experts, or "direct requests", which are not published, but are communicated directly to the governments concerned. The list does not include comments made by the Committee in previous sessions for which action by governments is still requested.

The section on submissions indicates the sessions of the International Labour Conference of which adopted instruments have, or have not, been submitted by governments to the authority or authorities competent to consider further action, as required under article 19 of the Constitution. The number of the Conventions, Recommendations or Protocols are given in parentheses, preceded by the letter "C", "R", or "P" as the case may be, when only some of the texts adopted at any one session have been submitted. When the ratification of a Convention was registered, that Convention and the corresponding Recommendation are considered as submitted.
